My Spanish host family

My host family in Spain is a family of four. The parents are Raquel and Francesco, and they are about 50 to 60 years old. They are very kind and friendly. They have two children. The older daughter is Maria. She is 19 years old and studies chemistry at the university. I like her very much because she was very kind and always helped me. I also met her boyfriend and his grandmother, who taught me some Spanish. The younger son is Francesco. He is 14 years old and he was my Erasmus partner. He goes to high school and also attends English classes after school.

They live in a village called Nonduermas, which is close to a bigger city called Murcia. We went to school in this city. The family lives in a three-floor house. The grandmother lives on the first floor, the family lives on the second floor, and they rent the third floor. In front of the house, there is a small garden where the grandmother grows lemons. I also spent time with Francesco's grandmother. We spoke a mix of English and Spanish. It was sometimes difficult, but also fun. Every morning she prepared snacks for us to take to school.

They often took me to basketball games of their family members and to restaurants. I met their aunts, uncles, cousins, and many other relatives. I think I met almost the whole family.

During my stay, I tried many new Spanish dishes and learned a lot about their culture. It was very interesting to compare life in the Czech Republic and in Spain.

I felt very comfortable in this family because they were very welcoming and always helped me. They accepted me as if I was part of their family.

Saturday 7th February with my host family family

My Saturday started when they took me to a café for breakfast in the morning. After we came back home, we went to a town called Playa de Bolnuevo by the sea. They showed me the beach and then took me to a viewpoint near a lighthouse. There were also some swings where I could sit and enjoy the beautiful view of the sea.

After that, we went to another town called Puerto de Mazarrón. There we had lunch together, and I tried paella for the first time. They also bought me some souvenirs, like bracelets. We walked on the beach and collected seashells.

Later, we went back home. In the evening, I went to the city with Francesco and his sister. We made our own candles, which was very funny.

After that, I went with Francesco and our friends to a bigger city called Murcia. We stayed there until late evening. We also went to a restaurant for dinner with all our friends. It was very nice because it was my last day in Spain.

When I came back home, I packed my things, because early the next morning I went to the airport. His parents also gave me many nice things for the trip and souvenirs, even for my parents.

In my opinion, it was the best day of the whole week.
