My host family in Palma de Mallorca

My one-week Erasmus stay in Palma de Mallorca was arranged by Javier's family of three: Javier's mother, Sylvia, who was the heart of the family and the main liaison of our WhatsApp group. She is Bulgarian but has lived in Mallorca for a long time. She is fluent in both Bulgarian and English. She was very friendly and caring. She prepared breakfast, snacks and lunch for us every day, which I enjoyed very much.

Javier's stepfather, Oguz, a Turk, took care of me together with her. Oguz is of a cheerful and witty nature, typical of the southern peoples. For his joviality, Javier's mother sometimes called him the second child. He is a big football fan, which was evident during the Turkish Football League final, when he was cheered by his favourite club's victory. They both work in the same company near the airport as tour operators.

The last member of the family is Javier, a 14-year-old boy. He has lived in Mallorca since birth. He's a nice, friendly, helpful boy. Javier and I have a lot of sporting interests. He used to do boxing competitively, now he is active in calisthenics. His favourite foods are spaghetti and kebabs.

This family lives in a duplex apartment in the outskirts of Mallorca, Son Serra. We took public transport to the centre about 20 min or 10 min by car.

The apartment becomes of two floors. On the first floor there is a hallway, a huge lounge (living room + dining room) with balcony, kitchen, toilet, staircase. On the second floor there is a bedroom, Javier's room, a study (i.e. adapted to my stay) and a bathroom including a toilet. I liked their apartment very much, it felt cosy and comfortable.
