The school - IES Francisco Salzillo

The school we visited was named after Spanish artist Francisco Salzillo – a Baroque sculptor of the 18th century.

The school is 55 years old and has more than 900 students and 86 teachers. It is a secondary school where students start at the age of 12 till 18.

The lessons start at 8:25 nad finish at 2:30 p.m. Students have three lessons in a row without a break and then there is a 35-minute break and three more lessons. One lesson takes 55 minutes.

During the break student eat their snacks and can buy some food in the school buffet.

When we arrived the first day, they invited us and we had a guided tour of the school.

This is the main entrance. There is a statue of the woman in front of it. My Erasmus partner said that she doesn't know who it is. Students spend their break outside in the school yard by playing games or just relaxing. There is a gym on the other part of the school yard with an auditorium for big events. They use it also for playacting theatre plays.

A nice wall painting you could see when you were on your way to the school gym... I really liked that.

Canteen for teachers

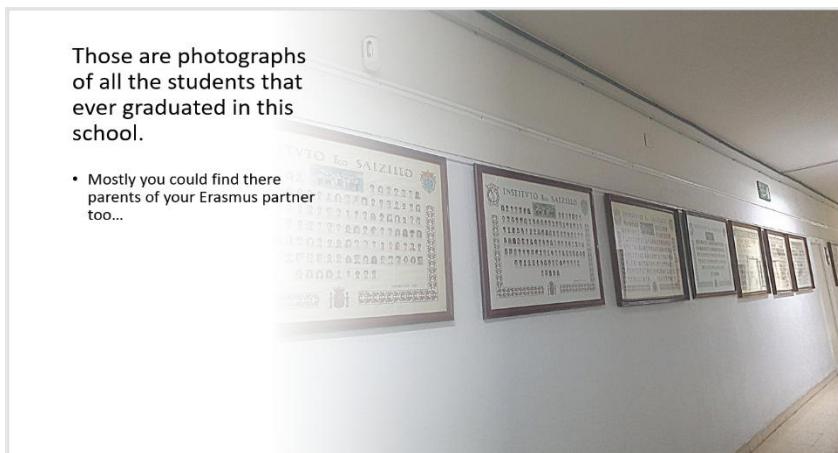

Students in Spain don't have lunch at school You must eat at home after school. So why does this school canteen exist? This place is dedicated to teachers. When the break starts the teachers go to the canteen and order some snacks and coffee ...

This is the teachers's room. They can relax or work there when they don't have classes. Stairs and corridors are decorated.

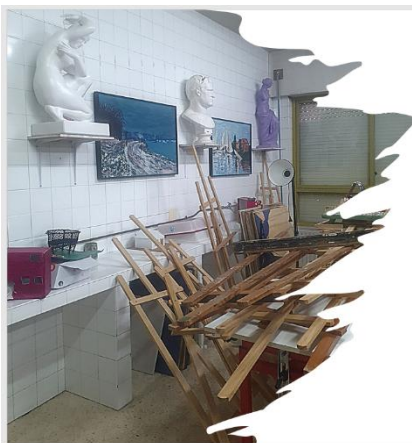

Those are photographs of all the students that ever graduated in this school.
