MY SPANISH HOST FAMILY

My Spanish host family consisted of my host David, his mother Beatriz, his stepfather Luis, and David's younger brother Javier. David also has a father, whom I only saw once because he lives separately.

David's mother, Beatriz, works as a doctor at a clinic near the house where we were staying, and his stepfather works as a football coach in Valencia.

Beatriz is a very kind and friendly person. Every morning, she prepared breakfast for me, David and his younger brother. She also made snacks for us to take to school and drove us there every day.

I usually only saw David's stepfather in the evenings because he left for work early in the morning and returned home in the evening. However, whenever he came home, we always had a lovely time together. He is a very pleasant person with a great sense of humour.

I only saw David's father once, but Beatriz told me that he also works as a doctor at the same clinic as her.

David's younger brother, Javier, attended the same school as David and me. Like David, he also plays football and is very passionate about it.

I felt very comfortable with David's family because they all seemed very welcoming, kind and cheerful.
